ROUND-UPS.

Getting the Refrigerator in Shape to Begin the Slaughter of Cattle.

All the Cattle Will be Out of the Strip on Time A Frediction that Prices Will Rule Higher-General Stock Notes.

Superintendent Riley who will have charge of the Dahlman dressed beef company's works arrived vesterday aftermoon, and will at once proceed to get everything in readiness for the beginning of operations next month. The fact that these works are to start up, and that 200 beef cattle will be wanted in Fort Worth daily is already having its effect, and cattlemen have been here investigating the matter in view of furnishing the best best beef cattle that Texas can turn out. "If we can get the same price here that we can in Chicago, less the freight," said a Somervel county man to a GA-ZETTE reporter yesterday, "this refrigerator will be the biggest thing for Texas cattlemen that was ever started up in the state. It will be money in our pockets and the refrigerator will get cattle in better condition than are sold in Chicago from Texas. A beef steer will lose from sixty to seventy-five pounds in the way of shrinkage when shipped from Fort Worth to Chicago, and this would amount to al least $3 per thead, which saved by a sale here would amount to big money to the producer. I am a refrigerator man, and would rather sell my cattle in Texas than take them anywhere else. There are lots others like me, too, and you can bet your life we are anxious to furnish the Fort Worth refrigerator with

THE BUREAU OF STATISTICS.

How it Would Be of Great Benefit to Stock men in All Parts of the Country.

Col. W. L. Black of Fort McKavett, the originator of the idea of a bureau of statistics and information, which if made to materalize, writes THE GAZETTE from his home as follows:

FORT MAKAVETT, TEX., Sept. 13, 1830. Editor Gazette.

W. Q. BATEMAN.

tion of cattlemen held list March. With such a bureau the stockmen of Texas would know every day how many head of cattle were started for St. Louis, Chicago or other places, not only from the Indian Territory, but every other shipping point, and it stands to reason a Texas shipper would not be so foolish as to make any shipment of stock in the face of such a large run as Mr. Pryor indicates must follow the president's order to vacate. With such information we could tell when the Territory was vacated, but under the present conditions we could not tell anything about of. Yours truly. under the present conditions anything about of. Yours truly.

W. L. Black.

Cattle in the Concho Country.

Col. John O. Talbott, who has a ranch in Tom Green county, has just returned from the Concho country, and to a Ga-ZETTE reporter stated that he had never known the range and herds to be in beter condition at this season of the year than they are now. Cattle, he says, are thriving and taking on flesh rapidly, and if the weather will be dry for a little while, giving the grass a chance to cure, there will be a world of fat cattle in the country in a little while. Col. Talbott mude several purchases of ones and twos while on the range, paying as high as $8

Sunshine Needed.

The recent rains have started grass to growing rapidly all over Texas, and the ranges now are as green as they were in the spring. What is needed now more than anything else is warm weather and plenty of sanshine. The grass is growing as rapidly as in the spring, but it is full of sap, and cattle do not fatten as rapidly on it as they would if dry weather would cure it up a little.

THE CATTLE EXODUS.

The Stockmen Will all be Out of the Cherokee Str p on Time,

Mr. F. F. Andrews of Vinita, I. T., one of the largest cattle owners in that section, was in St. Louis a few days ago, and in an interview with a Republic reporter stated that the order excluding eattle from the Cherokee Strip will be obeyed to the letter, and all cattle will be moved out at least a week before the specified time. The extension of time granted by the president will enable the cattlemen to comply with the order without loss, and they are now perfecting their plans for the removal. There will be a general roun i-up about October 1, and all the cattle in the Strip will be brought together. Then a committee of experts, especially appointed for that purpose, will select three-fifths of them, which must be marketed at once. The balance will be moved as rapidly as possible to their various destinations.

The closing of the Strip may prove a blessing in disguise to the cattlemen, and it is certain to be a source of great profit to Missourians. Many of the larger cattle owners are making arrangements to send their yearlings and twoyear-olds to Southwest Missouri to winter. Mr. Andrews has already made contracts for over 7000 head of his own account. The arrangement is usually made on shares, and Southwestern farmers are very glad of the opportunity to get Cherokee cattle. It is expected that the grass fed cattle will make flesh very rapidly on corn and cut forege. Much of the Cherokee stock will go to Southern Kansas and Texas ranges, and the half-grown stock will be sent to Missouri for a year's ripening before going to market hereafter if the arrangements prove as profitable as is anticipated.

PRICES WILL BULE HIGHER.

A Texas Stockman's Optnion of the Future of the Cattle Market.

J. O. Thompson of Pearsall, a leading stockman of that section, was interviewed by a San Antonio Express reporter recently on the outlook for the attle market, and he expressed himself

"There is little doubt," he said, that the prices during the coming season will rule higher than they did last year. There is a general scarcity of steers in the Western states, and the supply will not be nearly so great as formerly."

"To what cause is this scarcity of feeding cattle attributed?"
"Largely, and probably solely, to the

SKIN CANCER.

Severa, years ugo I was called to see a colored roman who had a malignant form of caseer or her foot. The cancer grew worse under the pregribed treatment, and the toes and one side of the foot were at length eaten entirely away. The patient could not have survived much longer, but I commenced the use of Swift's Spe-Sific, and it cared her sound well. That was three years ago, and there has been no return of the disease. I regard Swift's Specific s most excellent medicine for blood diseases 👪

s tendency is to drive out the poison.

Matherville, Miss. WM. E. STAGG, M. D. SSS

For three or four years I had an eating sore my tongue that made a considerable hole in it. I become alarmed at its progress, and went to Atlanta for treatment. The result was that commenced the use of Swift's Specific, and ne sore was soon gone, without a trace of it lef Thomaston, Ga., Mar. 14, '89. A. Lewis.

One Carload of fine mules and horses from Strong storms they perished by thousands throughout the Western states and territories. Especially in Nevada were the losses heavy. The reports from the leading cattlemen of that state are all underrated. No big cattleman is heard of to-day who did not suffer. The terrible winter crippled every one of them. Some men lost as high as 5000 head. The country is absolutely destitute of steer cattle of suitable ages for feeders. The entire list of corn-growing states is steeress outside of feeding pens. The range country has but few, and the demand is increasing daily. A practical feeder in Nebraska, who has been engaged in the business for eighteen years in that state and Iowa, says that he has ridden over three counties in Nebraska in search of feeding steers and failed to secure a single animal over one year old. In order to get a small bunch of 125 he was compelled to take half that number in helters. These he is now feeding on corn for the market next winter. A visit to the feeding yards throughout the corn growing states will develop the fact that in a very large preportion of them, both heifers and steer yearlings are being grained for the shambles. Not because they are the most profitable, but because there is nothing else to be had."

Cattle Consumption. The opinion is widespread that the supply of beef cattle next year is going to be short, though there are some papers that do not admit that such will be the case. The San Francisco Livestock Gazette the leading stock journal on the Pacific coast takes the fermer view and says that the United States in the fiscal year closing June 30, 1890, exported $31,261,-131 of cattle against $16,616,917 1888-9. The number of head exported in 1889-90 was 394,836. The exports of sheep in 1889-90 reached only $243,077, against $366,181 in the previous year. The number of sheep exported in the twelve months ending with last June was 67.521. With population growing from natural causes and immigration, at the rate of about 1,800,000 persons a year, even if the exports of beef animals did not further increase, there must every year be a larger demand for livestock. Yet from the breaking up of so many of the large ranges, the spaying of heifers, the free slaughter of cows and caives and the heavy losses of stock during last winter in some of the states, the number of animals, old and young, intended for beef, so far from increasing in the same ratio as population, is actually decreasing. The pinch is not felt vet, but it case. F. H. Hickey, 1208 Main street, Lynchburg, Va., writes: "I was broke out all over with sores, and my hair was falling out. After using a few bottles of Botanic Blood Balm my bair quit falling out and all the sores got well.

Julia E. Johnson, Stafford P. O., S. C., writes: "I had suffered thirteen years with eczems and was at times confined to my bed. The stobing was terrible. My son-in-law got me one-half dozen bottles of Botanie Blood Balm, which entirely cured me, and I ask you to publish this for the benefit of others suffering in like manner."

August A. Klages, 810 St. Charles street, Baltimore, Md., writes: "From my youth I suffered from a poisonous taint in my blood. My face and body was continually affected with eruptions and sores. I am now forty-two years of age and had been treated both in Germany and America, but no remedy overcame the trouble until I used Bo tanic Blood Balm. I have used about twenty bottles, and now my skin is clear, smooth and healthy, and I consider the poison permanently driven from my blood. I indorse it as the best blood remedy.
